Teams Nos. 2 and 5 to Play at Sherman's.

By "LEN" COLLINS.

What will prove to be either the semi-final or final game of the elimination three-cushion billiard tournament being bield at Frank Sherman's Royal parlors, will be played tonight when Team No. 2. nder the leadership of Ed Hoeke, meets

Team No. 5, piloted by Sherman.

To win out for the championship, it will be necessary for Team No. 5 to win tonight's match. In the event of Hoeke's quint coming through with a win the standing of the tourney will show a tie between Teams No. 1 and 2. # Syndicate of Theatrical Men Purchase Red Sox

President Joseph J. Lannin Sells World Champion Boston Club.

Boston, Nov. 1.—The Red Sox, champion baseball club of the world, was sold tonight by Joseph J. Lannin, of Garden City, to a syndicate composed of Harry H. Frazee, George M. Anderson and Hugh Ward. The deal was closed here. The amount involved was not announced. The purchasers are theatrical men. Frazee and Anderson are partners and prominent in the world of drama. They own the Longacre Theater in New York prominent in the world of drama. They own the Longacre Theater in New York and the Cort Theater in Chicago. Both are wellknown producers. # FAVORITES RUN BAD IN PIMLICO OPENING ottery and Maxim's Choice Only Ones to Score in Inaugural.

By GEORGE B. MORRIS.

Pimlico Race Track, Nov. 1 .- A card of seven races without any special feature was run off today at the historic Pimlico ccurse. The weather was raw and chilly and this had a tendency to keep the crowd down. Favorites were used rather crowd down. Favorites were used rather roughly, as only two managed to get home in front. Lottery and Maxim's Choice were the lucky ones to score. About the worst upset of the afternoon came in the third race when Arnold, who was looked upon as a "cinch." finished out of the money. He evidently did not like the going.

The next favorite to fall was Onwa, in the fourth number. This event was won.

the next ravorite to rail was onwa, in the fourth number. This event was won by Dandy Dude, who was slow to leave the barrier, but at the finish he was sim-ply galloping. Onwa was second, a length in front of Hail Columbia.

Plumose went over in the fifth race when he easily disposed of Blue Cap and Alhena. The winner paid about 8 to 1. Dervish was the heaviest place played horse of the day and he ran a very dull and listless race.

Golden Gate galloped home an easy winner in the sixth race, while Maxim's Choice captured the last number on the
